Dice may roll in Diamondhead

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Site approval for a $130-$150 million casino complex in the Bay of St. Louis is up for action today at the state Gaming Commission meeting in Jackson.

Mississippi Gaming Corp. officials plan to offer major revisions to their plans for a two-casino complex at Diamondhead to win the commission's nod for the development.

If the complex is developed, it will be the first and only casino-resort directly accessible from I-10 in Mississippi.

The most significant change in plans is a shift of the casinos' site: from wetlands off the Bay to the Bay waters proper.

That change was prompted, officials say, by the recent Supreme Court ruling that shot down plans other developers had for a casino complex in a 1,200-foot canal off the Bay at nearby Pine Hills site, in neighboring Harrison County.

Charles H. "Kip" Reddien, president of Mississippi Gaming Corp., said while the original Diamondhead "Casino World" development site was not situated in a dredged canal, the Pine Hills ruling left Casino World in a legal gray area.

"Clearly if the casino is in the Bay, it's a legal site," said Reddien.

Details were not immediately available on how patrons would access the casinos from land. A Gaming Commission spokesman said officials had discussed a tram, or monorail facility linking the development's proposed 450-room hotel with the casinos in the Bay.

Reddien said plans for such a system aren't finalized, but consultants are studying a "Disney-type people-mover" system to transport patrons.

Members of the commission already have viewed the Casino World property firsthand. Commission spokesman Warren Strain said the original casino location clearly was "not acceptable" to commission members, in light of the Supreme Court's ruling. The new layout, he added, "might be more palatable to the commission."

Mississippi Gaming Corp. owns some 400 acres south of Interstate 10 in Hancock County, between the Diamondhead yacht club and the Harrison County line. A new access road south of the interstate would take traffic from the Diamondhead I-10 exit to the development.

Besides floating two casinos in the Bay off the tract, developers plan to erect what Reddien said would be a "three- or four-star hotel," with 450 rooms. That facility has been shifted in the plans to be located closer to the Bay, said Reddien.

Another change downsizes the complex's proposed golf course, from 18 to nine holes. Reddien said that change was made to accommodate environ-

Stalemate creates controversy on Bay-Waveland School Board

BY RICHARD MEEK

A dispute over quality points that has gridlocked the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board may possibly delay determining the valedictorian and salutatorian at Bay High School until moments before next spring's graduation.

"It could happen," Board President Linda Penrose said of the possible year delay.

The controversy, which has been an underlying current for quite some time in the district, spurred a tidal wave of emotion Monday night. The stalemate revolves around two basic issues -- assigning quality and numerical points for Honors Classes and Advanced Placement Classes at Bay High, and the slotting, or "leveling" of those classes.

In the quality point system, points are assigned for corresponding grades, such as four points for an "A," three for a "B," etc. Percentages are added for honors classes.

In the numeric system, class rankings are determined by students' final numeric grade in each class.

Under guidelines in the current handbook, in effect until the graduation of the Class of 1998, both systems are used to determine final class rankings and valedictorians and salutatorians. A quality point system with only one level of honors classes will begin with the incoming freshman class.

One plan proposed Monday night would weigh Level II classes an extra 25-percent and Level I classes an additional 50 percent on the quality point scale. Consequently, an A in a Level II class would be worth five quality points. An A in a Level I class would be worth six quality points.

For each Level II class in the numeric system, an additional 25 points would be added to the student's final score, for each Level I class, an additional 50 points tacked on.

Currently, Bay School is on a three-level course system.

Level III classes are required courses.

Penrose vehemently objected to the 25/50 proposal, citing that a student could make a "60 in a Level I class," which is failing, but with an added 50 points, the final average would be "110."

One concern, according to parent Debbie Heitzmann, a member of the Course Classification-Grade Weighting Committee, is that some higher level classes are not always offered, which, of course, encumbers a student's points earning potential.

In a lengthy presentation to the board, Heitzmann compared French and Spanish classes. She said French III and French IV, Level I classes, are offered, but corresponding courses in Spanish are not. Under the 25/50 proposal, Heitzmann said "a student could drop from being ranked number one to number 10 or 15,

More arrests made in welfare fraud

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Some $48,000 in welfare fraud has been uncovered by an investigation by the Department of Human Services in Hancock County since January, Nathan Hoda, Hancock County Criminal Investigator said.

"The investigation has been aided by welfare employees and several concerned citizens," Hoda added.

The Department of Human Services now has a full-time resident investigator, Lee Ellsworth, who has also been assisted by Hancock County sheriff investigators.

A total of 18 affidavits were signed by Eric Peterson, Human Services investigator, leading to 15 warrants being issued in Hancock County since January 1.

The warrants were for Food Stamp fraud and Aide For Dependent Children (AFDC) fraud.

Earlier this year four arrests were made and those subjects have been bound over to the July Grand Jury.

The amounts of the fraud ranged from $15,932 for Food Stamps to a minimum of $120 for AFDC assistance, Hoda said.

Hancock Criminal Investigator George Burleson reported eight arrests during the past month. Those arrested and amount of fraud charges:

--Rhonda S. Whal, 29, 6320 Ackel St., Apt. 131, Metairie,

La., - $1648.

--Robert L. Preston, 37, 500 Amar, Waveland, - $1211.

--Gena G. Hutchinson, 30, 198 Auderer Blvd., Apt. 1, Waveland - $1142 and AFDC $615.

--Louis C. Hyde Jr., 34, 4126 First St., Bay St. Louis - $501.

--Glenda F. Delsied, 29, 22455 Fenton-Dedeaux Road, Pass Christian, - $3188.

--Anthony B. Fleming, 29, 23088 Standard-Dedeaux Road, Pass Christian, - $856.

--David R. Paulk, 41, 216 Water St., Waveland, - $870.

--Cleo Ann Willis, 37, 208 Hart St., Waveland, - $7170.

Burleson said those recently arrested are free on bond and awaiting preliminary hearings in Justice Court.

He added several more arrests will be made in the continuing investigation by the Department of Human Services and the sheriff's department.

Hazardous chemical spill reported

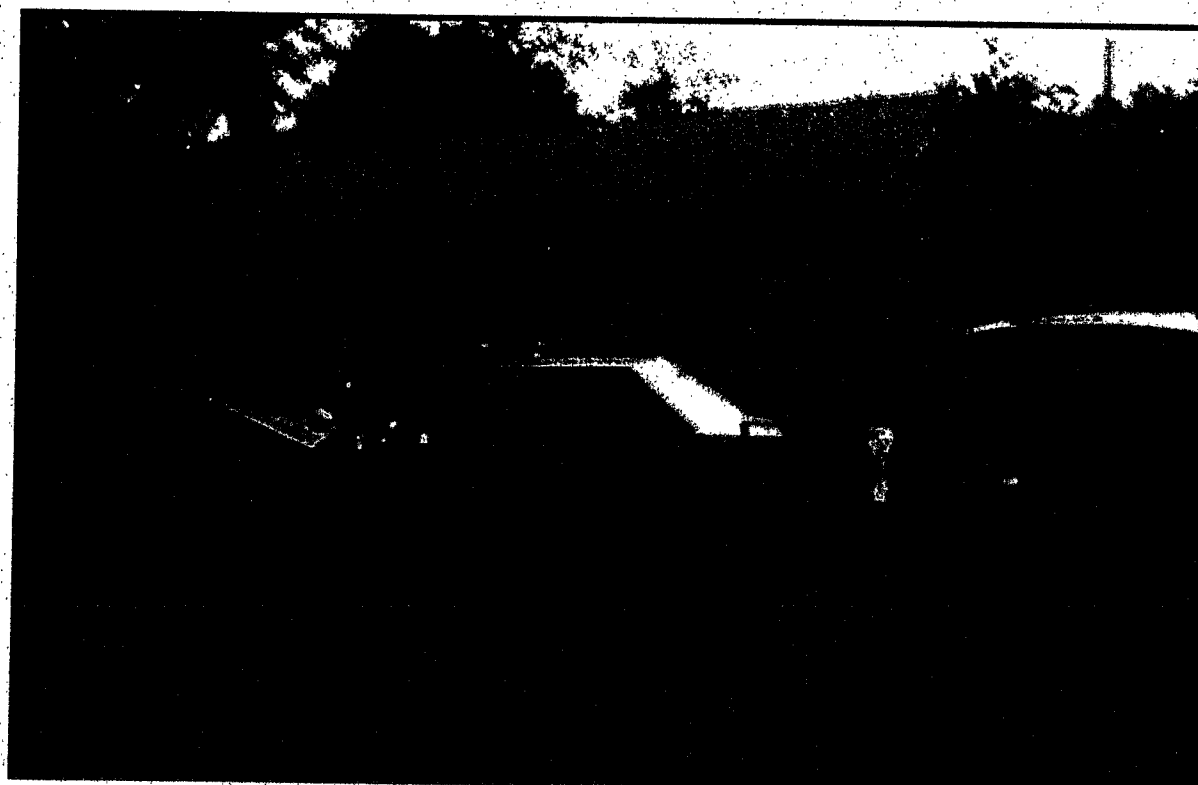

BY RICHARD MEEK AND ELLIS C. CUEVAS

A hazardous chemical spill at Port Bienville Industrial Park may eventually threaten the Pearl River, Port and Harbor Commission Executive Director Hal Walters said late Wednesday.

Walters said the chemical ferrous sulfate is believed to have been spilling into the water from two barges at Port Bienville since Monday. He said it is unclear whether the chemical was leaking from the barges, or being pumped out from them. The barges belong to Riverland Barge Company in New Orleans.

The Department of Environmental Quality was notified Monday and arrived at the site

Busted cruiser

A Bay St. Louis Police cruiser driven by a Bay officer crashed into a van on Washington Street. The officer was responding to a call that turned out to be the drowning of a seven-year-old boy Sunday at the Washington Street pier. The officer was headed toward the pier with his emergency lights flashing and thought that the driver of a van in front of him was pulling to the right to let the patrol car pass. Instead, the driver made a left-hand turn and the two collided. (Echo staff photo by Mary G. Seiley.)

Hancock County School District proposes $18 million 95-96 budget

BY TRACI BONNEY
The Hancock County School District is proposing a total budget of $18,151,918.23 for the 1995-96 school year. This budget, which represents an increase of $649,158.16 over last year's budget, will not increase the millage rate for county residents. Superintendent Myrna Bourgeois told the school board at a budget workshop June 6 that a projected increase in ad valorem tax revenues will bring in extra monies. She said she didn't have exact numbers because the tax assessor's office didn't have all the figures computed yet.

The revenue budget is some $14,950,000, an increase of more than $512,000 from the original 1994-95 budget. The biggest increase is in state funds, and most of that is due to state raises for certified personnel.

The school district's increased enrollment is also responsible for part of the revenue increase. According to the proposed budget, the district generated seven additional teacher units because of the enrollment increase.

The revenue budget also reflects small increases in federal funds and other financing.

The district will experience a decrease in 16th Section funds, because the district had several large timber sales last year and expects only a small timber sale this year. However, the 16th Section fund comprises less than one percent of the total revenue budget.

In the expenditure budget, nine percent will go to administration, eight percent to operation/maintenance, 4.6 percent to transportation, six percent to noninstructional, 5.5 percent to construction, 6.7 percent to debt services, four percent to other finance, and less than one percent each to central support and 16th Section. The other 55.5 percent will pay for instructional costs.

The expenditure budget's largest increase is in instruction, which includes state and local raises and the new positions created after the original budget was approved in 1995.

Slight increases are proposed in other financing and administration. Decreases are expected in capital improvement projects and debt services.

The school board, after briefly discussing the proposed budget and asking that certain changes be made, recessed the June 6 meeting until June 19, 4:30 p.m., in the school board room at the district office, Hwy. 90 in Waveland.

Municipal clerk training

Deborah Conravey, city clerk for Waveland, and Charlene Rutledge, tax collector for Bay St. Louis, took part in a recent training program in Jackson leading to certification for municipal clerks and tax collectors. Dr. Larry Graves, coordinator for the Center for Governmental Technology at Mississippi State University, organized the training. The state prescribed municipal accounting system, municipal law and a review of recently passed legislation were covered in the two-day session. The program helps city clerks, tax collectors and their deputies gain greater expertise in their job duties while staying updated on laws affecting city government. The citizens of their communities are the ultimate beneficiaries through better services. (MSU Ag Communications photo)

Waveland helps prepare residents for hurricane season

Mayor John Mason and Fire Chief David Garcia announced the availability of hurricane preparedness information for Waveland residents.

The package of information includes publications made available by Red Cross and the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

Residents can learn everything they need to know, including how to put together a family disaster supply kit, helping children cope with disaster, developing a family disaster plan, action guidelines for senior citizens, and repairing a flooded home. "Are You Ready?" an excellent guide for the new Waveland resident who has not experienced a previous hurricane is also included.

According to Garcia, "Everyone should have this information on hand, read it and follow the guidelines for safety preparedness."

"Waveland has experienced more than its fair share of disasters. We want our residents knowledgeable about how to prepare, react and recover if disaster may strike again," said Mason.

Packages are available at both fire stations, city hall and the police station for easy access by residents. Only one package per family is available.

Dates announced for Crab Fest

The Fourth of July Crab Festival will celebrate its 11th year with four days of great food and family fun on the beachfront in Bay St. Louis.

The festival has become one of the most popular annual events on the Coast, attracting thousands of people who come to enjoy the food, games, live Cucullu family reunion planned

The descendants of Manual Simon de Cucullu and Marie Modest St. Germain will meet in Bay St. Louis June 17 and on the 18th will tour some of the properties which were owned by the first Cucullu in New Orleans.

It has been 200 years since Manual Simon first arrived in New Orleans.

Two homes of the Cucullu in the 19th century still exist.

One is presently occupied by Maison Hospitaliere and the other is known as the Pitot House.

The Cucullu Row houses have recently been recognized by the Orleans Parish Landmarks Commission.

The Candidate for the Voter's
Bill of Rights

JERRY L. LADNER

Our Country was supposed to be of the people, by the people, and for the people. Too many politicians in Washington and state capitals are losing sight of our forefathers' vision. The Voice of the People has been ignored by career politicians and bureaucrats who work for their own benefit. I pledge to support the movement which restores control to the people.

I Support:

Term Limits - Politicians should be servants - not rulers - of the people. The existing system of political patronage is set up to give the incumbents the money they need to defeat the people's candidate.

Initiative & Referendum - It is time for legislators to pay attention to people other than at election time.

Recall - When a politician disappoints you or betrays you - you should have the right to recall.

No Taxation without Citizen's Approval. Our Nation was forged on the principal that taxation should require the approval of the governed. Voters should also have the power to approve or rescind tax increases in their states and cities.

LADNER - STATE SENATE DISTRICT 46

The Hancock County Solid Waste District has signed a contract to sell the County landfill to an outside firm. This will bring landfill materials from other states to our county. What effect will this venture have on our drinking water and fishing resources? I AM AGAINST THIS VENTURE, and I feel it should be decided by the qualified electors with a vote of the people. "CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

I really enjoyed the cooler weather, which greeted us starting Monday of this week.

It was as hot last week as it gets in August.

I spent three days on the Alabama coast last week, and temperatures were very high there, too.

I am still amazed at those 'sun worshipers' who can lay out for hours along the beaches.

We see and read many warnings about what prolonged sun can do to unprotected skin. I realize many use sun screens, but I have a feeling there still is damage to persons' skin from too much sun.

My group, and there were seven of us from four states, all commented about the attitude we received from most of the people working at the shops, restaurants and motels on the Alabama coast.

It is the busy season, which is true, yet I sure hope our people working in related businesses do not have the same 'I don't care attitude' we received at most places we visited.

Most gave the impression they were doing us a favor by offering their services, and if we did not like them, they had plenty of other customers to take our place.

It is a lasting impression visitors receives from anyone in a community, even if they just stop someone along a street and ask for directions.

It does not cost anything to be kind and polite.

I hear a lot of good compliments from visitors about how friendly our residents are and how well they are treated throughout the area.

I know our merchants appreciate business and work very hard to make sure their representatives offer a 'welcome attitude' to anyone and everyone who may come into their establishments.

Keep up the good work, folks.

If you have not done so already, now is the time to get that fishing tackle checked out for the upcoming Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo scheduled June 30 through July 4.

This fishing rodeo is billed as the World's Largest Fishing Rodeo and has been an annual event since 1947.

The rodeo headquarters is at the Gulfport Small Craft Harbor, and there is no entry fee. All one has to do is submit an entry form prior to fishing.

Competition for the largest fish is in both freshwater and saltwater categories. Rodeo fishing waters are the Mississippi Sound and the Gulf of Mexico. For freshwater fishing anywhere in the bays, bayous, rivers, creeks and lakes within 200 miles north of the Mississippi shoreline.

There are some big prizes up for grabs this year. There will be six additional $500 cash awards in six categories: king saltwater fisherman, queen saltwater fisherette, king blue water fisherman, queen blue water fisherette, king freshwater fisherman and queen freshwater fisherette.

Daily prizes will be offered too.

So, the time is now to make sure your fishing gear is ready to go.

Best of luck to everyone who will be trying to catch the big one.

Boating activities are increasing each week in our area, especially on weekends.

I urge all boaters to please make sure their craft has all of the necessary equipment.

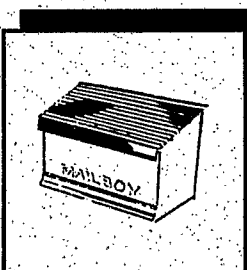

One never knows when an emergency may occur.

Have a safe boating season.

Princesses visit

Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre is surrounded by the 47th Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo princesses last week on their annual visit to Hancock County. The princesses are clockwise from bottom, Megan Pratts, Diamondhead; Shannon Scharp, Bay St. Louis; Angela Tibbler, Ocean Springs; Brandi Ann Favre, Hancock County; Amaris Catrina Bradley, Long Beach; Jessica Fountain, Waveland; and Jode Braxton, Gulfport. The fishing rodeo dates are June 30 through July 4, 1995 with headquarters at the Gulfport Small Craft Harbor.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Elected officials change after taking office

To the Editor:

Over a period of many years I have observed the species called "elected officials" and have often wondered at the behavior of same.

It seems that the moment these people are elected to office they begin to change so that after about six months they are no longer identifiable as the same person. Not all of them of course. By my recent count it seems to apply to about four out of five.

Prior to the election they are diffident, sincere and avid seekers after the opinions of the electorate. After about six months they become arrogant, devious and possessors of such vast expertise in most subjects that public opinion is no longer a factor.

I have wondered what causes the change. Is it a genetic defect? Viral? A mild form of insanity? Perhaps a governmental research project (as if we needed another) could find the answer. It would certainly be beneficial if we could identify in advance those who are likely to be afflicted.

There are two known facts about this condition. One, it tends to disappear a few months before an election. Second, the only permanent cure is dismissal from office.

With elections again facing the voters of our state and counties, let us hope that we can remember which of those running for re-election are in the 80 percent afflicted by this behavior pattern and which are in the 20 percent who are not.

Judge them by what they have done and not what they said they were going to do.

Grandmother praises grandson's heroic efforts

To the Editor:

My grandson, Adam Bouma, is a hero. Last Wednesday afternoon Adam was with his Dad, his brother and sister and family friends enroute to lunch when a stop was made at a Bay St. Louis store on Beach Boulevard. One passenger went into the store and Adam's father got out of the truck to speak with friends and had his back to the vehicle.

When Adam's Dad closed the truck door the vibration jarred the gearshift out of park and into reverse. The truck began rolling across Beach Boulevard where it would have hit the curb and flipped over the drop to the beach.

Adam realized what was happening and jumped over two seats to get to the driver's seat, to apply the brakes. He stopped the truck just in time and prevented a potential tragedy.

This is not the first time

Adam has been quick thinking and prevented a disaster. Two years ago at the family vacation in Florida, Adam's brother Zachary (three years old at the time) jumped into the deep end of the pool and slipped out of his inner tube. Adam jumped in and had Zack out before anyone could react.

Adam is ten years old and is indeed a hero. I believe he deserves recognition for this thoughtful, courageous actions. He resides with his parents, Ty and Tracy, his brother Zachary and sister Eva in Waveland.

Sincerely,
Judith Bouma Thompson,

Private prison facilities in Rankin facing problems

Former State Auditor and ex-GOP gubernatorial candidate Pete Johnson's sweetheart deal to lease a private prison facility in Rankin County to the state Department of Corrections may have gone sour for Johnson.

He is being battered with lawsuits over the renovation project to convert an old highway motel into a women's reformation center for DOC and a $4 million suit over the company he set up to get the prison contract last year.

And it could end up with the taxpayers being soaked for upward of $1 million to take over the facility if it is sold by the court. The minimum security prison facility is now in operation, located at the old Airways Motel on U.S. Highway 80 at Flowood. Johnson had secured it for $250,000 from its then-owner, Hinds Community College in late 1993.

Johnson and his newly-formed Corrections Systems of Mississippi had been given a contract by then-DOC Commissioner Eddie Lucas on May 20, 1994 to lease the facility for a women's reformation center at a rate of up to $72,000 a month (depending on how many inmates were on board up to 250) for at least two years, and a lower rate thereafter. The state would pay the operating costs and the utilities and all Johnson and his CSM would have to provide is the building.

Part of the deal to have the facility in operation as of last October, Johnson and CSM had to get the facility ready according to the contract and put a 10-foot wooden fence around it along with parking and driveway areas. Last August, when we wrote about the deal Johnson estimated it would cost him $650,000 to do the renovation.

It happens that Johnson and CSM borrowed $650,000 from Merchants and Farmers Bank of Madison (the bank's home base is Kosciusko) last June 30 in a note to be repaid by January, 1997, using the old motel property and the DOC lease as security. A couple of days before the money was borrowed, Johnson had agreed to pay realtor/contractor Buddy Jenkins $389,904 within four months as the general contractor to get the facility ready for occupancy.

Jenkins, mind you, was supposed to be Johnson's partner in Corrections System, having been so listed in the corporation charter filed May 4, 1994. At least, Jenkins THOUGHT he was owner of one-third of the business when it made its entry into the lucrative private prison deal.

In May, this column learned, Jenkins filed suit against Johnson for $2 million in actual damages and $2 million in punitive damages charging that Johnson not only did not issue his stock to him (Jenkins) but took over the company stock himself. Jenkins' suit also names Merchants and Farmers Bank, because of its role in providing the $650,000 construction loan for the renovation project.

Not only is Jenkins suing Johnson over the prison deal but four Rankin County vendors or subcontractors are demanding $209,000 they say is owed them for their completed work on the project. They've gone into Rankin County Circuit Court asking for judgments and liens against Johnson's CSM as well as Jenkins because he was the general contractor. Merchants and Farmers Bank is also a defendant as the holder of the deed of trust to the property.

The lawsuit seeks a judicial foreclosure by the Circuit Court and sale of the property to satisfy the liens if the amount is not paid off. Still a fifth subcontractor in a separate suit is asking for a $21,310 judgment for work that he did on the project.

Although the state is not yet a defendant in the suit by the four Rankin County subcontractors, Ed Rainer, attorney for the four complainants said that if the DOC lease agreement with Johnson and CSM is found to be legally recorded, he will add the state as a defendant. There are several possible scenarios here, among them one that the state will have to wind up buying the property because of the vested interest the DOC has in keeping it in operation because of the pressing need to house minimum security prisoners.

Jenkins contends in his suit (in Rankin Chancery Court) that cost overruns in the renovation project were encountered through no fault of his but he kept both Johnson and the bank informed of the overruns. The bank, Jenkins charges, cut off payments of his checks to the vendors and subcontractors, pushing him on the brink of bankruptcy.

Jenkins' lawsuit skirts the question of whether or not he was ever paid the $389,904 for the renovation work. "That will come out as the lawsuit progresses," said his attorney, Michael Younger of Brandon. "Buddy Jenkins wants the subcontractors to be paid. When the bank cut off his funds he couldn't pay them," Younger said, adding that another contractor came into finish the renovation before it was finally ready.

This column learned that after Johnson's initial $650,000 construction loan was exhausted, Johnson went back to Merchants and Farmers Bank at Kosciusko, and twice borrowed $40,140 in December, 1994, using the Rankin County prison facility as collateral, and again borrowed $87,239 on May 11, 1995.

In his lawsuit Jenkins contends that when Corrections Systems was initially organized with Johnson in May, 1994 to launch the private prison project, it was the intention that Jenkins would own one-third of the stock, Johnson one-third, and an "unnamed individual" one third, but he charges he was never issued any stock and subsequently learned Johnson conducted "some type" of board of directors meeting excluding Jenkins from owning any stock and issued stock in CSM to himself.

Johnson did not return my telephone calls to his home in Madison. The nephew of the late Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr., Pete (whose name is actually Patrick H.), was elected state auditor as a Democrat in 1987, but during his four-year term converted to the Republican Party.

Then in 1991 he decided to seek the GOP gubernatorial nomination, but lost to Kirk Fordice in a runoff. He was considered a prospect to challenge Fordice again this year, but decided against it. There was some conjecture that Johnson got the lucrative private prison contract from the Fordice administration as a political "payoff" for not opposing Fordice.

Letters Welcome

The Sea Coast Echo welcomes comments from its readers on subjects of general interest. Letters must be signed and include address or phone number so that the sender can be contacted by the newspaper if necessary. Letters should be brief, preferably typewritten and double spaced, and conform to standards of good taste.

depending on how many students take French III and IV." "Giving a student an additional 50 points for any course is certainly not proportionate and borders on being ridiculous," Heitzmann said.

She called the proposal "ludicrous and immoral" and added that "there will be no way for other students to make up the extra 100 points that (French III and French IV) students can gain."

"I personally do not feel that the honor of valedictorian and salutatorian should be based on French III and French IV." Board member Richard Flowers, a proponent of the 25/50 proposal, said it is "unfortunate" certain classes cannot be "guaranteed every year," but said there will be "game-playing" of the curriculum by students "no matter what we do."

Penrose countered by saying the proposal "is not fair. We don't have have Level I classes available to all students."

"If it's not fair for all of the students, I'm not in favor of it." Unable to reach a compromise, the board attempted to reach a solution on the leveling of classes. But that discussion rose the tension level even higher.

Penrose apparently stunned other board members when she proposed that the current three-level course system be thrown out, retroactive for three years. The magnitude of that proposal would be that every student's average for the past three years would have to be re-determined. Class rankings would also be re-shuffled, and that the advantage students who took Level I classes gained would be nullified.

Aligning herself with Heitzmann, Penrose said that since Level I classes are not always available for all students — the advanced Spanish and French classes were again cited — the system "is unfair and we should right a wrong."

An incredulous Flowers said it "was unfair to change the rules from which the students started with."

"I can't see taking quality points away," he said. "We can't make it retroactive."

Flowers made a motion to adopt the 25/50 proposal, which was seconded by Frank Perniciaro. However, Penrose and board secretary David Turcotte voted against the motion, and since Tracy Joseph was absent, the motion failed.

But the anger lingered until the meeting adjourned near 1 a.m.

"I am not compromising," Penrose said.

The board met late Wednesday night to further discuss the issue but it was not clear if anything had changed. Privately, board officials and others involved admitted there was no compromise by any of the parties, so the likelihood of reaching a compromise would seem remote.

However, Joseph may well be the swing vote for one side or the other. It was not expected that she would abstain. Joseph's absence, or an abstaining vote, would throw the whole mess into a long holding pattern.

Garden Isle crawfish boil, political forum

The Garden Isle Community Association will hold an old-fashioned political forum and crawfish boil on Saturday, June 17, 3 to 5:30 p.m. at 901 Dove Street.

The event is open to all property owners within the Garden Isle Community Association's boundaries.

S.O.C. Summer Program set Monday in Bay

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

The Save Our Children Center (S.O.C.), will hold a grand opening on Monday, June 19, 9 a.m. for a new summer program.

Michael Bell, executive director, said, "This new beginning for the S.O.C. and will be for boys and girls ages 6-12."

Hours will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday through August 18.

"The program is open to all youth, regardless of family income," Bell said.

Registrations are to begin Friday, June 16.

Programs are to include social, educational, cultural, personal safety and physical activities and events.

The S.O.C. Center is located at 405 South Nacaise, across from St. Stanislaus stadium.

Registrations will be on Monday and will involve a youngster's name, address, parent or guardian's name, and an emergency telephone number.

Children should be accompanied by a parent or guardian on the first day.

"The program will be limited to 30 children due to staff requirements. There is no cost for a boy or girl to participate in the eight-week program," Bell stated.

Bell added, "Everyone, including myself, who will be directly involved with the children have already or are being screened and background checked by the Bay St. Louis Police Department."

Activities will also include swims, picnics, field trips, conservation projects, etc.

Children involved in the summer program will also be served lunch at Bay Middle School cafeteria's summer lunch program.

The Save Our Children Center still seeks further contributions and volunteers for the center's activities.

For further information, contact Bell, or Gilda Hayes at 466-0401.

said the officer was headed down Washington toward the pier with his emergency lights flashing. The officer thought that the driver of a van in front of him was pulling to the right to let the patrol car pass, said McNeil.

Instead, the van driver was making a left-hand turn when the police officer attempted to pass on the left.

While the impact caused major damage to the police vehicle, the van, from Louisiana, sustained only minor damage. Neither the officer or the van driver were injured, McNeil said.

mental officials' concerns. Casino World also is to feature a entertainment complex, said Reddien, with a "full resort" development.

Paul Montjoy, manager of the Diamondhead Property Owners Association, said his organization negotiated a series of agreements with Casino World earlier this year to protect the Diamondhead residential community from adverse effects of the casino. The agreements cover such issues as traffic control and signage, he said.

Casino World Inc. and Mississippi Gaming Corp. are wholly-owned owned subsidiaries of Europa Cruises Corp.

In April 1994, Europa announced it would form a joint venture with Donald Trump's New York-based organization in developing the Diamondhead site. The plans called for Europa and Trump to control the venture equally.

Plans for that joint venture, however, never materialized. Reddien said Trump's proposed terms were "not acceptable."

Financing for the venture, he said, is in place, although details are not public information at this time.

Spill

of the spill Tuesday. Mike Egan of the DEQ in Ocean Springs took water samples for testing, Walters said. DEQ representatives from Jackson are expected to arrive today.

Walters said he was not notified of the incident until 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Walters said it was not determined how much of the chemical had been spilled.

Eaglebrook, Inc., located in Port Bienville, uses ferrous sulfate to manufacture ferric sulphate, a chemical that is sold to water treatment facilities. However, Eaglebrook rejected the two barges two weeks ago when salt water was discovered in the barges.

Walters said the shipment originated in Europe and transloaded onto the barges on the Mississippi River between New Orleans and Baton Rouge. Riverland officials said the salt water probably infiltrated the barges in the Intercoastal Canal on the way to Port Bienville.

"The water looks like orange Gatorade," Walters said. "It is an unfortunate spill. The sooner it gets out of there, the better."

As of Wednesday, the spill had covered the turning basin at Port Bienville, approximately 400 feet, Walters said. It was working its way into the three-mile canal, which connects with the Pearl River.

Coast Guard officials were expected to arrive Wednesday night and will be working with the DEQ.

Walters said the barge company has notified a company to be on standby today to neutralize and remove the chemical. However, he added nothing will be done until the Coast Guard and DEQ have completed their investigations.

Hancock County Fire Marshal Richard Pate who was unaware of the spill, when contacted late Wednesday said, "As far as I can determine at this time, ferrous sulphate is an environmentally hazardous substance."

This is according to the Association of American Railroad's book on emergency handling of hazardous materials, Pate said.

"The book says precautions should be taken in neutralizing the substance," Pate added.

The substance is reported to be heavier than water, not explosive, and not combustible.

Pate wanted to emphasize that he was unaware of the spill until contacted by The Echo.

Suzette Burton of Hancock High selected Presidential Awardee

Suzette Lewis Burton, a teacher at Hancock High School, has responded to the call for better science teaching. Burton was selected as the 1994 Mississippi Presidential Awardee for Secondary Science. The public announcement of this national award was made at the state convention of the Mississippi Science Teachers Association in Jackson. At that time she received state awards, including a $100 grant from South Central Bell.

"Through the efforts of (superintendent) Myrna Bourgeois and Dr. Gaynell Roberts, I have been able to successfully write grants for my classroom, and pursue a leadership role in the district. The awards that I have received during the last three years must be shared with Hancock School District for without them it would not have happened."

Burton is a graduate of Terry High School, Hinds Jr. College, Mississippi State University and William Carey College. She holds AAA certification in biology, chemistry and general science.

Burton is the recipient of numerous awards, including the National Tandy Technology Award. She has written and received over $85,000 in grants for her school district, including the prestigious national Tapestry grant. She has conducted science teacher training sessions on the local, state and national level.

For the past three years she has coordinated the Hancock County Professional Development Academy for her district. This academy works with secondary and elementary teachers to introduce new teaching strategies with hands-on application.

Burton is a member of many professional organizations including the Mississippi American Federation of Teachers, National Science Teachers Association, Mississippi Chemistry Teachers Association, Gulf coast Section and the Mississippi Academy of Science.

Burton's achievements were recognized at a week long program of activities in Washington, D.C. in March. She will also receive a grant of $7,500 to spend in her classroom over the next three years.

Henrie named manager

John Phillips, broker-owner, John Phillips & Associates Inc., announced the appointment of Jim Henrie, GRI realtor-associate, as branch manager of the firm's Bay St. Louis-Waveland office.

Henrie, whose appointment is immediate, will be responsible for the day-to-day operational management with special emphasis initially on the recruitment of additional qualified real estate agents.

Henrie comes to the agency with several years real estate experience and many years in the public affairs field. Active in Hancock County community affairs, Henrie has served in several capacities with various civic and professional organizations including charter member, past-president and currently spokesman of the Hancock County Tourism & Gaming Association (T&G).

Charter member of the Hancock County Journalists Association; chairman of the tourism/economic Development Committee of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce;

Serves on the board of directors and media liaison for the Diamondhead Business & Professional Association; vice-president of the Southeast Mississippi Tourism Association; and public relations chair for the Mississippi Gulf Coast Celebrate the Gulf; and other Gulf Coast public relations activities.

Henrie was the previous year's recipient of the West Gulf Coast Association of Realtors' prestigious "Ruby Award" — presented to the area realtor for having attained the largest number of real estate transactions — and the Platinum Award in recognition of multi-million dollar real estate sales transactions.

Jim Henrie

When asked what influenced her advancement in teaching, Burton stated: "When I look the position as science teacher at Hancock North Central 14 years ago, I felt that I had found a home. I found the students eager to learn, the faculty available to help a peer teacher, the administration willing to allow creativity in the classroom and the community supportive."

American Legion Post elects officers

At the general meeting of the Bay St. Louis Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post 139 June 8, the members elected officers for 1995-96.

The post was chartered in 1923, making this the 72nd slate of post officers.

Cotillion expansion plans include Hancock County

The National League of Junior Cotillions, a program of etiquette and social dance training for middle and junior high school students, has announced plans to expand its program in Mississippi to include Hancock County.

"We will be selecting a director for the local program who will receive complete training and an exclusive territory for expansion," says Anne Colvin Winters, NLJC national director.

The program, with headquarters in Charlotte, N.C. was established in 1979 and has licensed local cotillions nationwide. Purpose is to give students instruction and practice in the courtesies that make life more pleasant for them and those around them.

Students actively learn courtesies through a creative method employing role-playing, skits and games. Standard ballroom dancing is taught using nationally approved, top 40 music.

In addition to the usual courtesies connected with dancing, etiquette instruction is also provided with regards to sportsmanship, acknowledgment of gifts, behavior at cultural and civic events, correspondence, interaction in groups, introductions, paying and receiving compliments, receiving lines, table manners, telephone courtesy and many other areas of social conduct. Says Winters, "The program has met with equal success in metropolitan areas including Atlanta, Orlando, Minneapolis and Houston, and in small communities across the country. We believe it will be an important addition to the training of young people in this area."

For information call 1-800-633-7947.

Learning workshop

A learning alternatives workshop for college and K-12 education personnel will be held Thursday, June 29 at Pearl River Community College.

Dr. Rita Dunn will be guest speaker. Dunn is an internationally recognized educator in the field of learning alternatives. She is a professor at and director of the Center for the Study of Learning and Teaching Styles at St. John's University in New York.

The workshop is open to the public, and there is no charge. Registration begins at 8 a.m. and Dr. Dunn's presentation is scheduled for 8:30.

Because of limited seating and the distribution of handouts, reservations should be made by calling 795-1336 by June 23.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

DON'T FORGET

Saturday, June 17 at 3 p.m. is the annual POA meeting at the country club. Immediately after the meeting an open board meeting will convene, and a general status report of Diamondhead will be given.

JULY 4 CELEBRATION

The Diamondhead Youth Organization will again be sponsoring this day's activities with a variety of fun things to do starting with a parade.

They are encouraging the community to participate in some fashion, and any individual, family or group can put together an entry. The parade will be followed by food and games under the trees on the country club's grounds.

Call Betty at 255-1885 for information.

ACADEMY HAPPENINGS

It's vacation time for students at Diamondhead Academy.

The results of the Stanford Achievement Tests taken in April are in. All grades tested 1-6, scored well above grade level. Principal Cal Rogers and staff have done a fine job.

Pre-registration for 1995-96 ended in April with a record number of 96 enrolled for next year. There is still limited space available in most classes. Call 255-1784 for information.

LET'S DANCE

Suzy B. Fair, with a master's degree in dance, is a licensed, certified instructor to teach jazz, tap, ballet and acrobatics. She will be opening Suzy's Dance Studio soon.

To pre-register for summer classes at 4402 E. Aloha Drive, call 255-3102.

CALLING ALL CHILDREN

A reminder to all who received Jim Van Norman's letter concerning ages of all children in Diamondhead to please return the form to the POA office as soon as possible.

If you have misplaced your survey form, write the names, ages and school grades of the children and turn them in. Your participation is appreciated.

YOUNG GOLFERS

The DYQ announces a junior golf league this summer starting June 22.

Play will be on Thursdays at 3 p.m., and is for boys and girls

12 and older. Younger children may participate with permission of the pro. Volunteers are needed. Anyone interested in helping with the program, please call the Pro Shop.

The summer will end with a junior golf tournament. Participation in the league is mandatory for entry in the tournament.

CHURCH CELEBRATION

St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Diamondhead and St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Picayune will host an ecumenical "Celebration Ulteya" at St. Paul's Friday, June 16 at 7 p.m.

Robin Dow, chairman of the Mississippi Episcopal Curial Office will be guest speaker. Worship, music and fellowship for all Curialists is planned. Curialists from the Coast are invited to come to St. Thomas at 6 p.m. and carpool with them to Picayune. For information, call 255-9213.

TENNIS ANYONE?

The junior tennis camps at Diamondhead's Tennis World are ongoing throughout the summer from 9:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Mon.-Fri. July 10-14, 17-21, Aug. 7-11 and Aug. 14-18.

Groups will be broken down by age and ability levels. Development of tennis skills include foot work, conditioning, stroke production, nutrition, match play, strategy and sportsmanship.

Cost per person is $125 for the week. Lunch will be provided for an additional $25.

Call Mike at 255-5030 for more details.

BUSY FEET

Under the direction of Charlie and Ruth Olivier, the Diamondhead Dance Club has been quite busy performing at "Diamondhead Day" at the Hancock Welcome Center, parading at the New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival, showing off with the Diamondhead Players in "Nite Court," and doing their thing at the Louisiana Children's Museum.

Ruth reminds everyone about beginner classes in line dancing or clogging or both. Persons interested should call 255-3477.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to the Holcomb Family who are well represented in the May/June issue of Coast Magazine.

Susan Holcomb Ritten and daughter Sarah are just lovely in their spring fashion at Beauvoir.

Mrs. Dot Holcomb Hector, Susan's aunt, is 90 years old on the Art Scene, but is still "re-creating the lost Delta region" in her paintings of simpler times.

THOUGHTS TO SHARE

A hug is a great gift — one size fits all, and it's easy to exchange.

Give that someone special one today. Happy Father's Day, Dads.

ST. ANN AND ST. JOHN NEWS

Thoughts for meditation:
Make two homes for thyself, my daughter. One actual home and another spiritual home, which thou art to carry with thee always.

—Catherine of Sienna
Dear Father, please make within my heart a quiet place where You will always be at home. Amen.

Without doubt the mightiest thought the mind can entertain is the thought of God.

—A. W. Tozer
You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with your mind.

Matt. 22:37
It is said that the face is a mirror of the soul.

Lord, May Your beauty reflect through me to others. I pray that Your love will be what others see when they look at me. Amen.

We would be more grateful if we know how much of what we take for granted is planned by God.

Lord, forgive me for taking so many things for granted. Thank You for caring and providing so well for me. Amen.

When God began creating the heavens and the earth, the earth was at first a shapeless, chaotic mass... then God said, "Let there be light."

Gen. 1:1-3

Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves.

—James Barrie

There will be a pre-baptism class today at 7 p.m. in the parish hall.

The annual end-of-school parish luncheon immediately following St. Ann's 10:30 a.m. Mass last Sunday was a huge success. It was a beautiful day. The capacity-packed parish hall was bursting with parishioners, their families and friends. The buffet tables were filled with a variety of delicious foods, including desserts.

Many thanks to the group of ladies, members of St. Ann Altar Society, responsible for a huge undertaking and to the husbands who gave their support. It was a job well done.

And, of course, thanks to our pastor, Father John Kelly, just being his usual self, visiting individually with everyone in attendance. Could it be that that particular day was his birthday? Happy Birthday!

Congratulations RCIA candidates Karen Johnston, Terry Calhoun, Teresa Gomez, Erika Breuning and Karl Marshman. Pavilion Roofing began this past Tuesday. Please contact Lionel Sellier if you can help. 467-8451.

Welcome to our parish family, John and Terry Calhoun and sons Ryan and Rickey.

Congratulations to Emily Ann Gruzinskas who was baptized into our parish family last weekend and to her parents Pete and Beth and her brother John.

John Phillips & Associates, Inc. knows that even small groups can have great significance.

The professional real estate agents affiliated with John Phillips & Associates, Inc. recognize that being the biggest doesn't necessarily mean being the best. Although a leader in the Mississippi Gulf Coast's real estate industry, the agency has consistently refused all efforts at becoming caught up in the national and international real estate franchise movement. John Phillips & Associates, Inc. prefers the blending of state-of-the-art marketing tools with down-to-earth, old-fashioned, people-to-people real estate professionals.

If you are a Mississippi real estate licensed agent, currently active or inactive, and would like to learn more about becoming affiliated with John Phillips & Associates, Inc. in Hancock County, give us a call or drop by our Bay St. Louis office in Shieldsboro Square today. We're looking for a few good agents to complement our team and to assist us in our new direction. This just might be one of the best decisions you've ever made!

Girls Fast-Pitch season to end soon

The regular season is coming to a close with great expectations for the upcoming All-Stars. The senior league girls division ended Monday night with the Wildcats defeating Farm Bureau. The Wildcats had a great season this year. They came from last place in 1994 to second place in 1995.

The Waveland Wildcats, coached by Sandra Gray, Diane Blappert and Karen Zahniser, surprised everyone this year, including Trophies' Angels by defeating the Angels in a close game Thursday night by a score of 10-9.

This win secured the Wildcats second place and gave Trophies' Angels their first loss in two years (27 wins and 1 loss).

Waveland Wildcats came from behind in the fifth inning. Ashley Blappert, Kirstal Zahniser and Tahn Nguyen walked to load up the bases. This brought Shannon Baker to the plate. Shannon hit a long fly ball to center field bringing in three runs and making a stand-up triple for herself. The Wildcats took the lead in the top half of the fifth and played great defense to get the Angels out — one, two, three. The Waveland Wildcats deserve a lot of credit for their hard work and dedication to the team and coaching staff.

The final standings for the Senior League Girls are:

Trophies' Angels 11 wins, 1

loss

Waveland Wildcats 8 wins, 4 losses

Simmon's Construction 6 wins, 4 losses

Farm Bureau Insurance 4 wins, 8 losses

Penrose Babes 1 win, 11 losses

The Little League Girls Division has been won by Allstate Aces. They had second place last year and put forth that extra effort this year to rise above Chuck Benvenuti's Mardi Gras team to take first place with a record of 11 wins and three losses with one game remaining.

Second, third and fourth place is still a race with the season ending tonight. The current standing for Little League Division is:

Allstate Aces 11 wins, 3 losses

Mardi Gras 9 wins, 5 losses

Knights of Columbus 9 wins, 5 losses

J. B. Design 9 wins, 6 losses

Thomas Troop 6 wins, 9 losses

American Legion 139 no wins, 14 losses

The girls will have a fun day at the park this Saturday with ball games starting at 9 a.m. and going on all day. There will be a space walk, dunking booth and games for all the kids to play. On Saturday evening All-Stars for each division will be announced.

Wildcat basketball camp begins Sunday

State champion coach Richard Mathis will host the Pearl River Community College Wildcat basketball camp June 18-22 on campus in Poplarville.

The camp is for boys in the 4th through 12th grades. The $125 cost includes housing, meals, individual coaching, instructional films, insurance, evaluation and a camp T-shirt.

Mathis guided the Wildcats to the 1995 state championship for the first time since 1965. He will be camp director.

Registration will be from 2-4 p.m. Sunday, June 18 in the lobby of Marion Hall. A $25 non-refundable deposit is required.

The staff will consist of Kyle Roane and area high school coaches. Primary emphasis will be on individual fundamentals of shooting, passing, defense, rebounding and dribbling.

At night will be competitions to include a free-throw shooting contest, team and individual competition.

For information, call Mathis at (601) 795-1175.

Hancock Bank's Coast ATM network now at 63

The new Hancock Bank automated teller machines were recently added to its growing network of ATMs which now number 63. New locations are as follows:

- Singing River Hospital, Hwy. 90 in Pascagoula
- Ocean Springs Hospital in East Ocean Springs
- Broadwater Resort Hotel lobby in Biloxi
- Chevron Station west of the Coliseum/Convention Center, Hwy. 90, Biloxi
- Sav-A-Center, Hwy. 90 in Waveland.

The newly opened ATMs offer bank customers and non-customers 24 hours access to savings, checking, Mastercard, VISA, Discover and American Express accounts. Users may also transfer funds between accounts, obtain account balances, plus many other special transactions. Hancock Bank's ATM system, which is part of the Plus, Cirrus and GulfNet networks, serves the Mississippi Gulf Coast from Gautier to Waveland and north to Poplarville.

Hancock Bank is a subsidiary of Hancock Holding Company with $2.1 billion in assets. It is the largest financial institution in South Mississippi and is listed by Veribanc Inc. as one of the strongest, safest banks in the United States. The company's common stock is listed on the NASDAQ National market quotations under the abbreviation HancHd.

Safety tips offered hotel/motel guests

As many vacationers stay in hotels and motels this summer, the Mississippi Division of Public Safety Planning suggests some safety steps to help avoid being victimized by crime.

"Sometimes, in a vacation mood, we tend to be careless, and this carelessness can ruin a vacation," said Donald O'Cain, governor's representative for highway safety and Public Safety Planning's executive director.

O'Cain suggested the following steps:

- Place valuable in the hotel or motel safe.
- Don't call attention to yourself by displaying large amounts of cash or expensive jewelry.
- Close the door securely when you're in your room, and use all locking devices.
- Be sure that any sliding glass doors or windows and any connecting room doors are locked.
- When returning to your room late in the evening, use the main entrance to the hotel or motel if possible. If this isn't possible, look around carefully before entering your room.

— Never open the door in your room for a person on the outside without verifying his or her identity. If this individual claims to be an employee, call the front desk and ask if an employee is supposed to have access to your room and for what reason. Don't invite strangers into your room.

— If you observe any suspicious activity, report this immediately to the person at the front desk.

— Never needlessly display guest room keys or leave them on restaurant tables, at the swimming pool or other places where they easily can be stolen.

"Discuss these points with any others who will be vacationing with you," O'Cain advised. "These safety suggestions, coupled with safe driving habits, such as always using safety belts or child protective devices, never mixing alcoholic beverages with driving and never exceeding speed limits, can go a long way in insuring that a tragedy won't spoil your vacation."

Knight wins science award

Melissa Knight, Our Lady Academy junior, was named winner of the annual Bausch & Lomb Science Award May 21 at the OLA Awards Convocation.

The science award, a handsome bronze medal, is presented each year to winners at approximately 6,500 participating schools throughout the United States, Canada and several foreign nations. More than 400,000 medals have been awarded to outstanding science students since the program began in 1933.

According to Sister Donella Hartman, OLA principal who presented the award, "The Bausch & Lomb Science Award is especially significant because it recognizes the junior student at our school who has attained the highest scholastic standing in science subjects."

As winner of the award, Knight is eligible to apply to become a University of Rochester Bausch & Lomb Scholar. The designation carries with it scholarship funds, the minimum amount being $20,000 ($5,000 per year for four years).

Knight, daughter of Linda Knight of Bay St. Louis, is an all-A student and member of the National Honor Society and Spanish Honor Society. She was a member of the 1994-95 Math/Science Team, which placed second in the state in its division. A member of the Campus Ministry, she is chairman of the Liturgy Committee. She also received the English III Academic Award, the Advanced Math Award and a Campus Ministry service pen.

Bausch & Lomb, worldwide leader in healthcare and optics, is one of America's oldest and most successful companies, with a heritage of technical achievement and product excellence dating back to 1853. Bausch & Lomb employs more than 14,000 people worldwide and is headquartered in Rochester, N.Y.

Boston Garden:

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
It will all be over in a moment, but for now, it is a memory. Those hallowed halls that stand on Causeway Street next to the MBTA's Orange Line. Memory will be the only thing left for the famed Boston Garden. The building that has been the home of the Boston Bruins and the Boston Celtics for so long will be demolished on September 30 to make way for the $160 million Fleet Center which stands a mere six inches away from the present Garden.

This Southerner had the opportunity to take one of the final tours of the Boston Garden when I visited my friend. I will say one thing — chills went up my spine.

As a young boy, I grew up knowing Larry Bird, Kevin McHale, Robert Parrish, Dennis Johnson, Bill Walton, Danny Ainge and the rest of the immortals. The reason was because my father was the most avid Boston Celtic fan I have ever known. That was the only team we watched or cheered for. And in my household, as a boy, you cheered for whom Daddy cheered.

However, I came to love the Celtics on my own and in my own way as I watched them play. Just look at them, they are the NBA's most successful franchise by far. The Celtics have 16 NBA titles, hold the record for franchise winning percentage at .628, and they play in perhaps the most famed arena in the land.

The Garden was built in 1928 by the same man who had built Madison Square Garden in New York City. He had a dream, a string of pearls, as he called it. There were to be six "Square Gardens." The one in New York City was the first and Boston was the second. However, about two months after the Boston Square Garden opened the man died and his dream along with him. Now, the Boston residents couldn't stand New Yorkers and their Square Garden so they decided to rename theirs to simply the Boston Garden and the rest is history.

The first sporting contest held in the Garden was a hockey game between the Boston Bruins and the Montreal Canadiens. The Bruins won the game 2-1.

When one walks into the Garden, they think of a nice indoor stadium with huge concessions and great lighting but not in the Garden. It is definitely 1928 all the way and it just makes you wonder about all the famed athletes who have graced the same places that you are now standing.

The seats are from 1928 as is the locker rooms. The locker rooms were built right under the steps of the arena so as the steps cascaded down so did the ceiling. Therefore, the smaller players would dress in the shorter area and the taller players in the more spacious area. At one point in the locker rooms, the ceiling is only six feet tall. The hangers in the locker room were based on seniority. If a player was a rookie then he was a one-hanger guy. If he had more years than one, then he got two or three hangers.

The arena has now air conditioning and heating, so it can get rather cold or hot depending on the season. One story is, the Celtics were playing the Lakers in 1984. The temperature reached 103 degrees on the playing surface and Kareem Abdul-Jabar passed out in the locker room at halftime. The Celtics ended up winning the game, and the Lakers were furious. They stated they would never come back unless Red Auerbach got AC in the locker rooms. He called the Lakers back some time later and said he had AC in the locker rooms. The Lakers came back to play, and sure enough they had AC in the locker rooms. However, the two large AC units were still in the boxes. Red Auerbach later said he promised to get AC in the locker room, but he did not promise to hook it up.

Many great players have come and gone with the Celtics. First and foremost there was the famed coach Arnold "Red" Auerbach, who has been affiliated with the Celtics since 1950. He was hired by Walter Brown and came from the Navy where he was a physical fitness instructor. Red went on to become, arguably, the greatest coach the game has ever seen. His trademark lighting of a cigar at the end of a victorious game will always be a constant in Boston legends.

Then there was Bill Russell who was a part of 11 championships as a player and coach. His battles with Wilt Chamberlain are legendary, and he has become known as the league's best defensive center of all time. Next there was the "Houdini of the Hardwood" Bob Cousy who is now a broadcaster for the Celtics and John "Hondo" Havlicek who was the Celtics' first round draft choice out of Ohio State in 1962. Then Dave Cowens and JoJo White, Danny Ainge, Tommy Heinsohn, Dennis Johnson and Reggie Lewis. Robert Parish had his trademark turnaround jumper. Kevin McHale had his rebound layup. Last, there was the greatest Celtic of them all, Larry the Legend.

Larry Bird came into the league in 1979 and etched his way into legendary status with his shots that seemed to rain down from heaven. His battles with Magic Johnson and the Lakers are some of the league's most memorable games. Bird was named the league's most valuable player an unprecedented three times. He won three titles with the Celtics, and his retirement ceremony was a whole separate ceremony. There wasn't even a game scheduled for that night!

The arena had been home to the Celtics since the NBA was formed in 1949. Soon there will be nothing left but memory. The Celtics won 1,287 of 1,709 home games in the arena.

This arena is also the home of the Boston Bruins, one of hockey's most prominent teams. The Bruins have five Stanley Cup titles and have participated in the NHL playoffs for the last 24 years in a row.

It was the home arena for one of hockey's greatest players in Bobby Orr. The Bruins' famed

USM co-sponsors softball tournament

More than 1,500 people from four states are expected on the University of Southern Mississippi campus June 16-18 for the 10th annual Hub City Classic Softball Tournament.

That should include about 700 out-of-town participants and spectators pumping money into the local economy.

About 32 men's teams are expected to participate from all-German defensive line "The Kraut Line" played in the arena. It was at this arena where Bobby Orr scored his famed fourth goal, in the fourth game, in the fourth overtime, with four seconds to go that sent the Bruins to the Stanley Cup Finals in 1971.

The Boston Garden was also home to the Fog Game in 1988. It was so hot outside that the hockey rink started to develop a layer of fog on it, and they delayed the game with the Bruins winning. When the fog dissipated, the announcer went to call the game back to order and the power blew. This forced the game to be called and the teams resumed play at Hartford. The Whalers went on to win and go to the conference finals. This game is named Game 4A by Boston residents because it would have given the Bruins a 3-1 series clinching win. But that was the mystique and magic of the Garden.

There is one last game scheduled to be played in the Boston Garden on September 29. The game will be a hockey exhibition match between the two teams that opened the Boston Garden, the Bruins and Canadians. The next day when the new Fleet Center is being dedicated, the demolition crews will begin work on the famed and hallowed halls of the Boston Garden.

This arena has seen countless heroes come and go. The Boston Garden that houses all the Celtic magic and mystique and the famed parquet floor that has its so-called "dead" spots in the floor will soon be just a memory. It will be remembered the way it was — home to the greatest sports and stars of America.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

Strong shrimp

It's time to go fishin' y'all. Now fishing buddies, the Turtle is not gonna tell y'all the shrimp caught during the first week of shrimping season were what you might call big shrimp. Matter of fact, some of the shrimp caught during opening week of the shrimp season were decidedly undernourished. They were what you might call "on the small side." But there were some really big shrimp brought into the docks.

How big were the big shrimp? Let me put it to ya'll this way: most shrimp are put into a regular ice chest. A regular ice chest is said to hold somewhere around 80 pounds of shrimp. Some of the shrimp unloaded off the boats were not put into an ice chest, they were carrying their own ice chests. Man, those were some big shrimp.

If ya'll don't already know, the shrimping season opened this past week in Mississippi waters.

Just in case the announcement of the opening of the shrimp season passed by y'all, the way you can tell the season is open is by looking to the South as you ride along Beach Boulevard. All those boats out there, with the big pieces of metal sticking up in the air, are not the Russian fleet coming to invade, but are shrimp boats.

The big metal pieces sticking up into the air are called booms. However, they are not cannons, nor are they missile launcher tubes. The booms are the equipment which the shrimp boats use to pick up their nets and to drag their nets behind their boats.

Nowadays most of the bigger shrimp boats don't even take their nets out of the water. They have what some call a "lazy line" attached to the boom on one end and to their net on the other end right in front of where the net narrows down and forms what is called the "bag."

After a period of time with the net in the water a shrimper winches in the lazy line. This causes the lazy line to close the front opening to the bag in the shrimp trawl. The action of closing off the bag allows the trawl boards and the net to stay in the water and continue fishing while the bag is lifted out of the water by pulling in the lazy line.

Once the bag is in the boat it can then be emptied, and the "stuff" can be sorted out from the shrimp. Sorting the "stuff" is probably the most back-breaking part of the shrimper's task. You see, he has to reach into a big pile of moving "stuff," which is the contents of the bag, and remove things like angry crabs and sticky hard-head catfish which are mixed in with the shrimp.

After the shrimper has removed the crabs, catfish and things from his catch of shrimp, he will then sort out his shrimp into sizes.

For example: 35-count shrimp means there are 35 shrimp to one pound; 68-count shrimp means there are 68 shrimp to one pound. There is no specific weight standard for shrimp that are able to carry their own ice chests.

It must now be time for the Turtle to talk about fishin'.

A few reports are coming in of some trout being caught along the surf in Hancock County. There are reports of flounder being caught along the grassy shoreline from Bayou Caddy to Pearl River.

The piers have produced a few sharks at night for those folks interested in shark fishin'.

This week's Fishin' Y'all is being cut short as the Turtle is preparing for the DMR hearing, which is to be held Monday, June 12 at the Scott Marine Education Center.

Purpose of the hearing is to reduce the number of speckled trout recreational fishermen can catch from 25 to 10 per day. While DMR wants to decrease the number of trout recreational fishermen can catch, they want to increase the areas and the number of days that commercial fishermen can catch trout. I hope to have a report on this meeting within the next week.

This week's wonderful wise words: Now is the time to enjoy shrimp.

Is it wise to offer help to a shrimp carrying his own ice chest, Turtle?

'Obsession' tops list of boat names

"Obsession" is the most popular name for a boat, according to the annual survey conducted by BOAT/U.S. (Boat Owners Association of the United States), the nation's largest organization of recreational boaters.

The popularity of "Disney's blockbuster film The Lion King" was evident in this year's survey. "Hakuna Matata" ("No Worries"), a song and oft-quoted refrain from the film, jumped into 8th place on the BOAT/U.S. list of the top ten names.

"The names on the list suggest that for many boating is a passion and a good way to relax and put aside the pressures of daily life," said BOAT/U.S. Communications Director David Pilvelait.

The BOAT/U.S. Boat Graphics Department, which produces boat lettering for the association's 500,000 members, keeps a record of the most requested names each year.

The ten most popular boat names for 1995 are Obsession, Odyssey, Osprey, Escape, Liquid Asset, Wet Dream, Serenity, Hakuna Matata, Fantasea and Therapy.

Hancock cheerleader attends camp

The Hancock varsity cheerleaders recently returned from a National Cheerleaders Association summer camp workshop where one of their team members, Trinity Adam, daughter of Mike and Arleen Shubert of Pass Christian, received top recognition as being selected for the NCA All-American Team.

The workshop was held at USM, Long Beach, and attracted over 200 cheerleaders from surrounding states. She attends Hancock High School.

The National Cheerleaders Association is sponsoring the All-American Team award at each of over 500 workshops held across the United States. The winners were selected from this award above all other cheerleaders at the workshop on the basis of their cheerleading technique, leadership and all-around cheerleading ability.

The presentation of the NCA All-American Team award came at the completion of a full workshop of training on cheerleading technique, cheers, chants, jumps, partner stunts and pyramids as well as a leadership program for sportsmanship, responsibilities, organization and dedication.

The National Cheerleading Association has been conducting summer workshops for over 45 years, teaching more than 150,000 students each year on the art of dancing and cheerleading.

As an All-American Team member the cheerleaders are eligible to travel nationally and internationally with the NCA Special Events Performance Team.

The All-American Team members will be highlighted in the Brach's Holiday Parade, Chicago, Ill.; St. Patrick's Day Parade, Dublin, Ireland; and the Jeep Eagle Aloha Bowl, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Moran claims feature Street Stock win

By Melvin Bréland
Chris Moran started from the second row in the 18-car field of Street Stocks. Moran was able to work his way to the front where he claimed his first feature win of the season as well as a share of the bonus money added to this class.

Although Chuckie Smith started on the front row inside, he was unable to hold Moran off and would have to settle for the second spot over Johnny Willis. Willis worked his way to third from several rows back as the checkered flag fell.

Angie West started on the front row inside in the B maine where she lead for several leaps before her fiancé, Punkin Taylor, managed to slip past for the win. West held on for the second spot and also congratulated the winner with a kiss as he stopped for a winning photo.

Third place finisher David Hough was D.Q. moving Robert Knight into the spot. Heat wins went to Bobby Anderson, Willie Marin and Randy Hinkle.

In the Pro Stock division Bubba McQueen added another feature win to his list by going flag to flag. McQueen held off Ronnie Roberts for the win in the 18-car field. Heat winner Wallace Allen kept both honest, but had to settle for the third spot. Jerry Joiner also posted one of the two heat race wins.

Jimmy Necaie also started from the Pole in the Four-Cylinder Modified Class and went flag to flag over David Necaie and Marus Jacob Jr. Heat winner Kalif Sellier was in the thick of things before making a bold move which came up a little short costing him several positions.

K. I. Davis continues to hold the top spot in the Late Model Sportsman division. Davis timed in on the pole along side Mike Ladner for the start of the feature race.

As the green flag dropped, Ladner was tapped from the rear, getting crossed up and winding up on the rear. Ladner was never able to overcome this turn of events.

Billy Joe Schonewitz moved in behind Davis, but was unable to challenge him for the lead.

Mitchell Williams made one of his better showings by holding on to the third spot. Williams has been plagued by mechanical problems this season. Ben Davis held off Ladner and brother K. I. to finish first in the heat race.

In the Rookie Class, Allen Kilpatrick took over the lead after heat winner Steve Pate slipped up coming out of turn two and lost several spots. He was able to work back up to third before the checkers flew.

Cynthia Thompson chased Kilpatrick to the flag, but had to settle for the second spot.

Butch David of Gonzales led every lap in the Cajun Sprint Feature. Second place finisher Jason Johnson worked his way from far back in the 20-car lineup to post the second place finish.

SSC finishes sixth in ranking of best sports programs

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
St. Stanislaus High School claimed a nice distinction by The Clarion-Ledger newspaper on June 9 in the sports section.

The Rock-a-chaws finished sixth overall in Class 4A in the All-Sports awards banquet. SSC finished with 132 points which was just 11.5 points behind fifth place Long Beach.

SSC athletic director commented, "I think this is a great distinction to be named sixth overall in Class 4A. It is great because we didn't even score points in football or baseball. Plus, we don't have girls in our enrollment so we have no way to tally points in any of the girls sports."

He continued, "We have had a great year in athletics and this just puts the icing on top. If you take away the other schools points in the girls brackets, then we would pushing for the No. 1 ranking in class 4A."

Oxford won Class 4A with 211.5 points followed by Starkville with 196.5 points, Louisville with 151.0 points, McComb with 148 points, and then Long Beach with 143.5 points.

SSC received 13.5 points in basketball, 19 points in boys track, 23.5 points in boys cross country, 24 points in golf, 19.5 points in soccer, 13.5 points in swimming, and 19 points in tennis.

The Rocks were district champs in basketball, golf, and cross country. They were runner-up in track, and soccer. The Rocks finished second in state in cross country, golf, and made it to the quarterfinals in Terry Vidrine started in the front of the pack, but would have to settle for a third place finish. Mike Herrington, as last week's winner, rules required him to start last. Herrington had worked his way to the fourth spot before being black flagged for a rules infraction call.

Although Herrington disagreed with the call, he reluctantly went into the pits.

Next Saturday night will be double points night as well as $1,000 added to the Street Stock purse. This will also be the third round of the Pepsi 150. There will also be a $500 bonus in the Pro Stock Division.

Bill McDonald to minister at Harvest Time

Bill "Sarge" McDonald will minister Sunday, June 18, at Harvest Time Beacon Church in Pass Christian.

McDonald, recently retired from the Army, is the director of Show Me JESUS! Ministries in Waynesville, Mo. He ministers throughout the United States and overseas through Show Me JESUS! and No Greater Love Ministries.

His work includes not only preaching in churches, but street preaching, clowning, tract distribution and one-to-one ministry at such events as the Pass Christian and Gulfport Mardi Gras parades, Kentucky Derby, Indianapolis 500 and Fair St. Louis (formerly known as the V.P. Fair).

He also owns and operates a bed-and-breakfast inn for itinerant ministers and others.

The service at Harvest Time will be 10:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. The church is located two miles north of Interstate 10, Exit 20 (the DeLisle-Pass Christian exit).

For more information, call 255-2097.

Mu Alpha Theta

Eight students at Coast Episcopal were recently named to Mu Alpha Theta honorary math fraternity. They are, front, Star Ray, Kim Allen; second row, Brooke Hartwell, Christine Andres, Amelia Taylor; rear, Laila Hlass. Not pictured are Mary Hewes and Bobby Garrett. Mu Alpha Theta is sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America, with the goal of promoting interest in math and math fields among high school and junior college students.

HANCOCK COUNTY RESIDENTS WILL NOT SEE TAX INCREASE

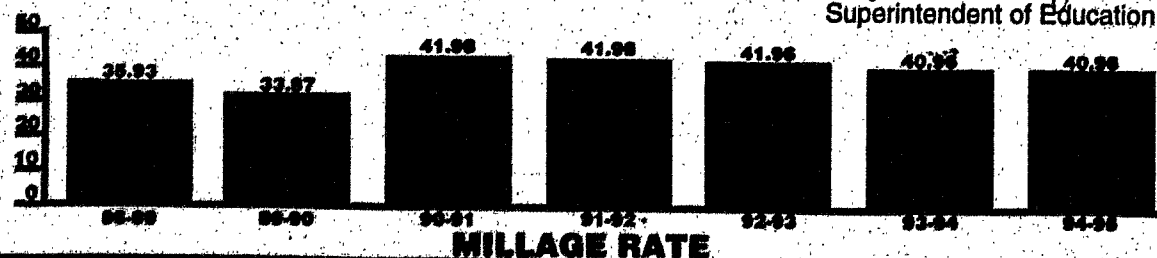

The Hancock County School District is pleased to announce that the taxpayers will not see an increase in school millage for the 1995-96 school session. In the past few years the Hancock County School District has requested in excess of one-half million dollars of ad valorem tax and gave a decrease of one mill to taxpayers two years ago because of the growth in the county. These funds have been used to employ additional employees due to the increase of over 400 additional students in the past few years, fund employee raises and fund state raise for non-minimum program teachers over the past few years. Additional ad valorem combined with gaming revenue has funded construction and renovation projects for the county schools in excess of one million dollars.

House Bill #585 became effective in 1994 and stated that all school districts who have operating millage in excess of 33.04 or who budget an increase in ad valorem tax dollars in excess of one dollar must advertise its intention to do so at the same time it advertises its intentions to formulate its budget for the forthcoming school year. The Hancock County School District has less than the 33.04 operating millage but is requesting additional ad valorem due to the growth in the county.

The Hancock County School District employs approximately 400 employees. The district has an annual payroll of approximately $9.5 million which includes salaries, social security, retirement worker's compensation and employee insurance. Payroll represents approximately 60% of the budget.

The district expects in excess of 3300 students enrolled from kindergarten through 12th grade for the 1995-96 school term.

NOTICE OF TAX INCREASE

The Hancock County School District has proposed to increase the part of its total budget that is attributed to an increase in ad valorem tax by two percent and/or its total budget by one half percent by certified copy of an order to be adopted by the school board of the school district to the taxing entity which is the levying authority for the school district as defined in section 37-57-1 requesting an ad valorem tax effort in dollars for the support of the school district. The proposal of the school district is to increase its ad valorem tax effort by $102,967.00 by 0 increase of millage rate and to increase its budget by $649,158.16 and with no increase of millage rate.

All concerned citizens are invited to attend a public hearing on the tax increase to be held on June 19, 1995, 4:30 at the office of the Superintendent.

A final decision on the proposed tax increase will be made on June 19, 1995, 4:30 in a public hearing to be held at the office of the Superintendent.
